Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

—V—

I saw two strange sights Sunday: a man I knew and a private.

Thomas Vance from Holcomb was in to see the GCW Saturday and got reinstated. He was cut off recently thru error.

Aint they sweet.

Hora and Greenfield face a week-end of idleness and sin unless somebody sends in some job printing to do.

Our Mr. Greenfield took charge of the men going to Shelby Sunday, lined them up, and presented each one a package of personalized U. S. Army stationery as a compliment to them from the GCW.

Our Mr. Terrell visited friends in Winona Monday.

I am always learning things. I did not know until she came in to subscribe that Miss Mable Martin was Mrs. S. L. Moorehead.

Speaking of Holcomb, they have not yet converted Volney Nason to Newdealism.

See where Skipper Meriweather, our friend the editor of the Sun at Charleston, free state, is cavorting around in Hot Springs, the gay old blade.

As far as I know, the GCW is the only newspaper in the United States tha gives the departing selectees anything. We give each of them a package of personalized stationery, as our part. Stationery can always be used.

A good many married men were sent for service in the Army Sunday. Some of them had a child. Maybe they will get around to some of the single ones, apparently overlooked, if we have another Thirty Years War. I cannot understand why a man with a child should go before every single man has been sent, but maybe I do not know anything. If I were on the draft board I would get some of the monkeys off my back.

I learned some more this week. I learned that Red Rose's name was Barry P. Rose when Orley Lilly had the GCW sent to him at Camp Shelby, where he has not yet got off center.

This newspaper has been somewhat critical about the slowness of getting troops to the front. In that we have already landed a successful punch on the Hitler-Musso nose in Northern Africa, I want to apologize. Keep it up.

For the first time in many months the Ferdinand Club failed to meet last week. Maybe it is the war.

Lt. Elmer C. Shaw is going to get the GCW at his apartment in Belton, Texas as a gift from his parents.

Attention ALL men in the service. When you move to another address, send us a card or letter showing your NEW address, for, otherwise, we cannot keep up with you. Newspapers are second class mail and are NOT forwarded by the post office.

Somebody accused Col. Henry Kahn of sending in two cards to Mike Conner. The genial Colonel expects to go to Mike Conner when dies. Mike certainly should, and, I am sure, does appreciate Col. Henry Kahn, of Duck Hill.

Aint they sweet.

James Russell is still alive, according to latest reports.

Everybody misses Lamar Chamberlain, who has volunteered in the Army Air Corps.

This is indeed a fine war. Our second son, Andrew, came home from near Nashville on a three-days pass last week-end. He has become a veteran, having been in the army nearly three weeks. Shades of World War No. 1, when we fellows could never come home just to eat about, unless we went AWOL.

Many folks do not know what AWOL is. It is the army abbreviation for Absent Without Official Leave.

If in doubt about a soldier, call him Sergeant; if in doubt about an officer, call him Colonel.

Folks who are not familiar with insignia worn by officers are given the following information: a gold bar indicates a Second Lieutenant; a silver bar, a First Lieutenant; two silver bars, a Captain; a gold maple leaf, a major; a silver maple leaf, a Lieutenant Colonel; a silver eagle, a Colonel; one star, a Brigadier General. That's enough for one lesson.

I do not think there are more than fifteen privates in a division in this war. Everyone seems to wear from one to six stripes.

THE HOME FRONT

BEARING GLEAMS OF WAR INFORMATION

Owners of farm trucks and commercial vehicles who did not receive their Certificates of War Necessity from the Office of Defense Transportation by the November 15 dead-line can cheer up. The ODT has announced that the deadline has been extended to December 1.

Those owners who have not yet filed their applications for Certificates of War Necessity should apply at once to the nearest ODT district office

NO IDLE TIRES

November 22 is the deal-line for selling back to the government passenger car tires in excess of five per car. After that date it will be illegal to use cars for which more than five tires are held. Take pity on the Railway Express Agency and don't wait until the last minute to turn loose your tires. The Express man will give you a receipt and the government will mail you a check to cover the value of the tires.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS OUT

Decorative Christmas lighting will be "out" this Yuletide, if the public complies with a WPB request to dispense with outdoor Christmas lighting. This means that brightly lighted Santa Claus lanes are out of fashion, and it means fewer twinkling Christmas lights on southern porches and lawns, but it will mean additional electricity, wiring and manpower needed to win the war.

COTTON WAREHOUSE CHARGES

Cotton warehousemen are being urged by the OPA to file immediately their lists for the determination of service charges. The OPA says that report forms have been sent to warehousemen throughout the south together with an explanation of the correct way to determine service charges.

If further information is required your state OPA office or your nearest War Price and Rationing Board can supply it.

FARM LABOR

The Office of War Information at the request of the War Manpower Commission is sponsoring a campaign to recruit and to retain on farms the labor necessary for next year's harvest The areas immediately affected are those where dairy, livestock and poultry production is important. Details of the campaign will be forthcoming in a week or so.

SKILLETS

Cast iron skillets, griddles and kettles, familiar equipment in thousands of kitchens, are feeling the effect of war. The variety and types of these utensils for household and army kitchens alike will be drastically curtailed by the WPB. This move will conserve vital scrap and pig iron for more weapons and equipment to kill Germans Japanese and Italians.

Husbands Entertained By Club

The members of the Home Demonstration Club of Gore Springs entertained with a Thanksgiving festival Thursday night in the auditorium of the school building. Several games were played and some important facts were learned. Calvin Clanton proved to be the best shooter with Mrs. Martin Trussell running a close second; Mr. McGahey was voted old maid, (to the delight of other members of his sex). The objections to neighbors were plain and outspoken. No one being offended. "Too Late for Supper" was the favorite game though many bumps resulted.

The husbands especially enjoyed the bountiful spread of chicken, ham, sandwiches, stuffed eggs, cake and fruit

Out of county guests were Mr. Billy Shultz, of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Carroll, of Lexington. Forty people were present.

This party was declared to be the best of the year.

The Home Demonstration Club met in Gore Springs church Tuesday to quilt two quilts, one each to be sent to the Baptist and Methodist Orphanage on Thanksgiving. Plans and arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Roy Chamberlain. Lunch was served.—Mrs S. E. Gillon.

Marshal W. W. Odom has subscribed for himself, having his paper sent to his apartment on Second Street.

As I predicted, there would be less disorder as more soldiers came into this area.

All America Knows Budweiser... but Few Know This

THE STORY OF BREAD

may well be called The Story of Civilization

Bread, the most venerable of prepared foods, has helped man, and man in turn has bettered the quality of his staff of life.

YEAST is the life of bread . . . and the story of yeast is the story of scientific research, uniform quality, mammoth production, modern refrigeration . . . and daily delivery to bakers in every city, town and village throughout the land . . . even by boat, by sled and by plane when other transportation is interrupted by floods and blizzards.

Anheuser-Busch is one of America's biggest sources of baker's yeast.

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentology and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—For manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products. Our plant is one of the world's largest sources.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionery uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

STARCH—for food, textile, paper and other industries—millions of pounds annually.

VITAMINS FOR LIVESTOCK—We are America's biggest supplier of yeast vitamins used to fortify animal feeds.

REFRIGERATING EQUIPMENT—for retailers of frozen foods and ice cream the country over. This division is now working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Armed Forces.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry on its way.

Lace Is Feminine, Practical And, of Course, 'Non-Priority'

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

LACE, the indispensable item in every woman's wardrobe, is prominent in the news for winter. The flattery, the prettiness, the allure of lace has been a theme throughout the centuries for painters and poets and fashion creators, but this year lace takes on greater importance than ever in that it is non-priority. It's patriotic to wear lace.

Designers are making the most of the materials still available for civilian use and emphasizing the importance of using fabrics not needed for the armed forces. So, in addition to its magic and fascination, the wearing of lace becomes a patriotic gesture.

Lace has a way of making women look prettily feminine, as they should look to please soldiers on furlough. One of the fashion successes created to meet the wartime demand for a not-too-formal dress is the street length dance frock. Styled of lace, with special attention focused on flattering necklines, these dresses are styled according to a formula that is working like a charm (especially if the lace is filmy black).

The use of lace over color is again in fashion, black Chantilly over pink being favored. Black with chalk white is also especially chic in such combinations as a white lace skirt with a black velvet or jersey blouse top. Jewel colored laces, too, have a prominent place in the mode. The colors that lead stress the fuchsia purples and reds, and also a luminous blue that is gorgeous at night.

The dress to the left in the above illustration is fashioned of a beautiful scroll-patterned plum colored lace. It has just the right lines to achieve a suave, slim silhouette. The open throat V-neckline and the gathered sleeves contribute to the flattery of this gown. This is the type of frock that is regarded as a necessary luxury in the wardrobe of an active woman.

With velvet and velveteen suits holding the spotlight as they so definitely do this season, the lace blouse holds forth in the fashion picture in all its charm and seductive loveliness. Certain it is that there is no surer way of dressing up a suit than to glorify it with a beguiling lace blouse. The dainty blouses inset in the ovals above are furlough week-enders that will team perfectly with the new velvet suit, which will probably be black or a rich autumn color. Val edging trims the becoming neckline and mirror buttons accent the center of the scalloped front of the model pictured in the top oval. This attractive blouse comes either in chalk white lace or in ecru.

Sugar-white lace sweetens the other blouse. Here you see the favorite jacket-type blouse that carries a look of distinction all its own. The open neckline and three-quarter sleeves are smart details. Lace is frilled around the neckline, the sleeves and the edge of the blouse. Mirror buttons twinkle down the front.

It's news, too, that the new lace blouses are introducing exciting adventures in color. The column-slim dress with that "couturier" look of expert design and workmanship shown centered in the group tops a coffee-colored crepe skirt of fluid grace with a blouse done in cocoa lace over pale blue. This new color alliance is dramatic and very lovely.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

The government's goal is to produce synthetic rubber at a rate of more than 600,000 tons per year by the end of 1943.

Even without a war program requiring tremendous quantities of rubber, the U. S. used 648,000 tons of rubber in 1940.

Any tire made in the last two or three years is good for eight to ten years if not worn out in service.

In 1925, 900 farm tractors were sold with rubber tires and 5,000 steel wheeled tractors were changed over to rubber. Six years later 161,500 rubber tired tractors were bought by American farmers and in addition 45,500 were converted to rubber wheels.

Following a steadily intensifying program, we're late in the U. S. but steadily ahead in each of the past decades.

Clever Beret

Smart? Well, smart is a mild word to use in describing this gem of a beret that tells you at the very first glimpse that it is a winner. It is a black felt beret, and if there is a type of hat more popular with the young set than a jaunty beret, it is yet to be discovered. The double accordion crown is a new note. The unique and amusing bright yarn treatment is right in tune with the present trend. And the wide use of yarn crochet and knit and ingenious treatments that include yarn fringe, ball dangles and hair-braid novel effects, has given to millinery a new interest.

Long Gloves

Long gloves "up to here" are back again to be worn with short afternoon gowns and cocktail dresses. Bracelets are worn over the gloves with earrings and clips to match.

Jet Beads, Rhinestones Add New Glitter Accents

Glitter is apt to occur anywhere in the mode this season, on daytime wools and jerseys, on sweaters and even on topcoat or cape yokes and sleeves. About all that can be said about glitter has been said, and the supply of adjectives to describe the fascinating sparkling fashions that hold the center of the stage have about given out.

However, there are new highlights that deserve mention. Rhinestone frog fastenings glitter down the front of a black velvet dinner gown. Another idea is Chantilly black lace spangled with jet beads posed over pink to form a plastron covering the front bodice of a crepe afternoon dress.

Fray-Proof Seams Make Fagotted Slip a 'Find'

It's a good idea, the fray-proof slip now available in stores throughout the country. It has a rayon fagotting that joins the seams. Cut to fit just so under the arm they are perfect for the new slim dresses.

The flat, neat fray-proof seams are as decorative as handwork, yet are many times stronger than the old-fashioned kind. The fagotting gives without any danger of breaking and there is no ravel, not a single raw edge. Absolutely fray-proof, it has been called the "slip with no wrong side" because it is finished off so beautifully.

Colorful Belts

This season novel belts are playing a very important role in adding variety and color to the simple frock. Colorful peasant types are shown in the new collections. Most attractive is a felt belt and bretelle arrangement that has two square pockets attached which are gaily decorated with an applique motif of richly colorful grapes and felt leaf cutouts.

MOTIVES THAT STRENGTHEN FAMILY LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 2:1-4; Joshua 24: 14, 15; Ephesians 5:28-31; 6:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love never faileth.—I Corinthians 13:8.

Last week we saw the things which mar the life of the family, now we turn to those things which give strength to the home and to daily life. This is a lesson much needed just now when so much of our normal home life is thrown out of joint.

We begin at the right place when we say that there must be a

I. Recognition of God in the Home (Exod. 2:1-4; Josh. 24:14, 15).

Failure at this point is without question the great mistake of our day. Christianity touches every phase of life, but nowhere is its blessed influence of greater importance than in the home.

Our lesson suggests that this is to be done in two ways in our homes.

1. By Faith in God (Exod. 2:1-4). The story of the birth of the babe who was to be Moses, possibly the greatest civic, social and religious leader of all time, reminds us that the Jewish people, who had found favor in the eyes of the Pharaohs in Joseph's time, were now being persecuted. A decree had gone out that all boys were to be destroyed at birth.

Here were two parents faced with the awful fact that their baby boy was condemned to death. Did they weep in fear and despair? No, they trusted God and sent the little one forth on a venture of faith, the charming story of which follows the verses of our lesson. God honored their faith by using their enemies to serve them.

2. Service for God (Josh. 24:14, 15). Joshua, who followed Moses as the God-appointed leader of Israel, was giving his last admonition to his people. He knew how they had repeatedly turned from God in unbelief and sin; yes, that even now some were worshiping false gods.

He pleads with them to turn to the one true God, but notice that his plea is made effective by the fact that he and his house were serving the Lord. Every man who has a position of leadership in this world is responsible for the use of that place of power, as a testimony for God. Now and then we hear of a high public official in our own land who loves and serves Christ in sincerity, and our hearts rejoice. The faith of a whole nation may thus be strengthened.

Every one of us has a sphere of influence, and our family life counts for or against God in our own community and among our own friends.

The members of a family that recognize God have a high

II. Regard for One Another in the Home (Eph. 5:28-31; 6:1-4).

It is pure hypocrisy for the family to parade an outward show of religion which does not effectively touch the relationships within the home. Incidentally, it is the kind of hypocrisy which is strikingly ineffective—men see through it too easily.

What then does Christianity do for the home itself? It determines, directs, sweetens—yes, glorifies the relation between

1. Husband and Wife (Eph. 5: 28-31). This passage puts marriage on the highest plane, comparing it to the relationship between Christ and the church. Thus marriage is the joining of man and wife in a sacred union which calls forth love in its highest and noblest sense.

This means that the husband cherishes his wife as his own body, against which no man would do any harm, and for which he makes every possible provision for its comfort, health, usefulness and attractiveness. Such love between parents will lead the entire home life along in a serene, happy and wholesome way. It will not only double the joy, but will give strength in the hour of sorrow, dividing the griefs and burdens of life.

It will set the pattern for the right relation between

2. Parents and Children (Eph. 6: 1-4). The first, and one might almost say the only, law of childhood is obedience. It is God's way to joy and a satisfying life experience for the child in the Christian home. The command to obey carries with it the understanding that the parents are "in the Lord." What father or mother is competent to direct a child apart from faith in Christ?

Notice too, that the parent has an obligation to deal intelligently and kindly with the child. We need a great deal of improvement, and perhaps instruction, at that point. Authority asking obedience is necessary, but it can be wise and kind.

Above all, there is to be a divine nurture, a guiding of the tender child life in the ways of God. Here is life's greatest opportunity and its mightiest challenge. How surprising that fathers (and mothers) who are looking for the greatest measure of usefulness to their generation fail to see it in the privilege they have to rear intelligent, godly children.

ON THE HOME FRONT With RUTH WYETH SPEARS

HERE is a hooked hearth rug that may some day grow up to room size. The turquoise flowers and red cherries in the alternate squares are from dyed pieces of the old cream colored wool blankets. When the squares are hemmed and sewn together with strong carpet thread, they form a fascinating pattern of circles, flowers and fruit.

Twelve-inch squares of burlap overcast around the edge made the foundation pieces. Patterns for the repeat design were cut from paper and the burlap was marked by drawing around these with wax crayon. Loops of fabric strips were drawn through with a steel rug hook. Red was used for the curved lines shown at the upper left. Tones of brown for the flower and gray for the cherry background. Mixed colors for the rest of the design.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears has prepared a special pattern for the rug in today's sketch with detailed directions for beginners. So, even if you have never made a hooked rug, you can start now making squares for a rug of any size you wish. Treat Constipation This Gentler Way!

Many folks say that almost as bad as constipation are harsh cathartics and purges. That's because many medicinal laxatives work this way: they either prod the intestines into action or draw moisture into them from other parts of the body.

Now comes news of a gentler and pleasanter way of treating constipation, for the millions of people with normal intestines whose trouble is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. This way is by eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, a crisp, delicious cereal, and drinking plenty of water. ALL-BRAN, unlike many medicinal laxatives, acts principally on the contents of the colon and helps you to have easy, normal elimination. ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, better see your doctor.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature destined the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer backache, headache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Greater Farm Safety Part of War Program

Accidents Cost People $4,000,000 During '41

"I knew I shouldn't have done it," is a remark often made by accident victims after the damage has been done. And because the war now makes the full working ability of every man and woman more important than ever before, greater accident-prevention care should be taken.

Accidents cost the American people $4,000,000 in wages, medical expenses, insurance, and property damage last year. A total of 102,500 persons were killed, 250,000 permanently disabled and 8,950,000 temporarily injured.

Much has been written on how to prevent accidents, but the best remedy is individual care and thoughtfulness.

Common among the causes of accidents is placing hands between gears, chains, cutter knives, or other parts of machinery in motion. In addition to avoiding this danger, other precautions are listed as follows:

A picture of an excellent Spartanburg county, South Carolina, farm showing strip rotation of cotton and small grain, with the small grain followed by annual lespedeza.

Do not cut toward yourself when using a knife.

Do not climb a ladder until it is properly placed, firm and steady.

Use a safety rope or strap when climbing a tree for pruning.

Drive tractor and car carefully.

Field machinery will last longer if operated at moderate speed. Farm machinery and equipment, as well as industrial machinery, are now provided better than ever with safety devices.

Agriculture in Industry

Tung Nuts

Back in 1904, Dr. David Fairchild of the government bureau of plant industry secured a quantity of Tung nuts from China. They were planted widely in this country, in all except cold climates, and from this beginning, has sprung a new industry which aims to furnish essential quick-drying oil to the paint industry.

A bumper crop in 1940 provided 5,000,000 pounds of tung nuts with a million dollar income to growers. A narrow belt in the southern states, 50 to 100 miles wide, has been found best suited to growing tung trees.

These come into bearing in the third year. They yield nuts with woody hulls the size of small apples inside of which are from three to seven seeds. Machinery used in crushing the seeds is similar to that used for crushing oil from cotton seed, peanuts and soybeans. The residue left is pressed into cakes and returned to the grower who uses it for fertilizer.

During the last ten years, before the outbreak of the war with Japan, oil valued at ten million dollars was imported from China each year. Much of this was of inferior grade and adulterated with other oils. It has sold from 5.1 cents to as high as 27.2 cents per pound in barrels at New York. With this foreign supply unavailable, the superior American product is finding a ready market.

Is Your Food Poundage Up?

In a population of 133 million, appetites vary tremendously. There may be dainty eaters while others are hearty eaters, but adding machine experts have calculated that each of us would have had on the average, 1,422 pounds of food in a year if all the food were evenly divided in the five-year period 1920-1924. In the "prosperity" years 1925-1929 the average went up 52 pounds to 1,474 pounds.

'Schools at War' Program To Help Smash Dictators

A national campaign is under way to enroll the nation's 32,000,000 school children in the war effort. This campaign, known as the "Schools at War" program, was launched by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in Washington, D. C., recently. Speaking over a national radio hookup and before 4,000 District of Columbia school children, Mrs. Roosevelt urged the boys and girls of the nation to dedicate themselves to active participation in the war effort through the Schools at War program.

Many of the Capital schools participated in the ceremonies which marked the opening of this notable campaign. The following series of photos will furnish more than one idea for other schools that are anxious to enroll their pupils in the important work of doing their bit towards whipping the enemies of freedom.

Scrap collection, another vital phase of school children's war activities, is the theme of this section of the Schools at War parade.

A healthy nation is a fighting nation, and the school children of America can do their bit by preaching and practicing the value of nutrition, as is being done by these school girls.

ANOTHER FORWARD STEP

For many, many years now, Grenada High School has in many respects had the "jump" on most of the schools in the state. Our latest "jump" is the school social. The faculty decided to give it a try last Friday night. The result was very gratifying. A large percent of our high school attended, making it a "stupendous" success.

There were games, dominos, checkers, two ping pong tables, bridge and other games. Then for those who prefer to dance, the whole west end of the basketball floor was theirs. The free music was provided by the contributing students who brought the records. Roberta Allen's record player served as a nickelodeon.

This is somewhat in detail that you may know that these "get-togethers" are strictly informal. Anyone who thinks, for any reason, that he or she would not have a wonderful time, all I ask is that he or she just mention the idea to one of those who attended.

Every High School pupil is invited; yes, more than invited; every single student in the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grades is sincerely wanted.

We are all aware that soon Grenada's amusement centers will be practically closed to students. The shows will be full at 7:00 every night as will every other form of amusement.

The sole purpose of the socials is to provide a way by which High School students may find good, wholesome entertainment. We owe it to ourselves; and, our teachers who gladly devoted their time and energy to making us happy, to show our gratitude by coming.

If anyone of you has the idea that he might be out-of-place, or that his crowd might not be there, he is sadly mistaken.

Last Friday I saw more crowd-bursting than at any other party I have ever gone to, and this is certainly as it should be.

Everyone had a good time whether he played ping pong, checkers, or danced. Everyone had a good time because no one was forced into any game or asked to get into anything that he didn't want to.

Let me make this promise to all who did not come; if you will come for three minutes you will stay three hours. So come on students, back up your own party next time.

By the way, to whoever found those Coca-Colas, we pay our undying gratitude.—J. G.

SCHOOLS HEAR CROATIAN TAMBURITZA ENSEMBLE

Monday, November 9th the first of a series of assembly numbers was held in the auditorium. This was entitled the Croatian Tamburitza Ensemble.

The main part of the program was playing a number of songs on the tamburitzas, the native instruments of Yugo-Slavia, and showing how different selections of American music sounds on them.

The group played folksongs of their native country, and selections of old American, popular, and Western melodies.

This most interesting program was put on by Martha Hannah and Charlie Elias, who though born in America, have spent several years in Yugo-Slavia.

A most interesting selection was the Liberty Overture, composed by their father when he first came into New York harbor and saw the Statue of Liberty.

The program closed with Mr. Cash leading the singing of "God Bless America."

SPORTLIGHTS—John Rex

The "Hoghide" Situation: The Bulldogs will don their "armor" Friday night to clash with the Charleston Hi gridders. And, as "Head Mentor" Hathorn orated in chapel, anything is liable to happen. Also contradictory to Coach's statement, "Senor" Larry Noble commented that "we are gonna beat Charleston pretty bad." Personally, I am inclined to agree with both of them.

By the way, did you ever stop to think how much it helps a team to hear hundreds of voices raise jubilant shouts of appreciation and encouragement to them on the field? Believe me it helps a lot for a team to know that they have got somebody backing them up, depending on them. So let's everybody "hitch old Dobbin to the sleigh" and follow the trail to Proby Field Friday night and give out with some "whoops" of encouragement to the team. For the way things are stacked up now, they are going to need it.

This is the section of the column where I, like a Thanksgiving turkey, stick my neck way out by prognosticating the outcome of the Charleston-Grenada game. I'll say that Grenada will beat Charleston by one touchdown. And I pray that the ax won't fall too hard on my outstretched neck.

The Basketball "Deliema": The Interscholastic basketball situation looks very "skinny" around these here parts this year. And unless some means are provided for gasoline, as well as tires, there ain't gonna be any Interscholastic basketball situation. Intramural basketball will probably take the place of interscholastic basketball until we win this war, and we can all help to do that by buying all the War Bonds and Stamps we possibly can.

The Orchid Department: Hats off to Billy Harper for doing such a fine job of centering for the Bulldogs this year. Although his position is the least glorious in the public mind and the least mentioned in the press, he has performed his job with the superior qualities of a great gridman. Due to the fact that Billy is only a Soph this year, Grenada's opponents will feel the might of Billy at center for two more years, unless "ole" Uncle Sammy intervenes.

This is yours truly signing "30" to this 'un, and looking forward to another'n.

Letters To The Editor

Grenada, Miss., Nov. 17, 1942

Mr. Editor:

With your kind permission, I wish through the columns of your paper to thank the "Powers that Be" for their wise forethought in sending to our most powerful enemies in the form of shot and shell the cannon which once held back the invading foe from our Southland, and which has sat silent, and quiescent for the past fifty or seventy-five years in our Confederate Park. Most fitting it was that the proceeds should have been given to Grenada's Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy. That organization for nearly fifty years has endeavored to keep green the heroic deeds of the Boys in Gray who went forth in defense of their homes, and to cherish the memory of their brave leaders.

In grateful acknowledgement of the honor, Grenada Chapter will supplement its meager annual appropriation with this gracious gift, to our SHRINE "Beauvoir Home," Biloxi, Miss., the last home of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy. This SHRINE is our Baby, and with might and main, we Daughters are struggling to keep its doors open that this and coming generations may learn and know something of the men who FIRED the cannon and their incomparable LEADER. All honor to whom honor is due. Especially to Mr. Talbert who has so ably steered the scrap drive.

Mrs. S. A. Morrison, President
Grenada Chapter, U. D. C.

Dear Editor:

Just to let you know how two country boys are making it in the army. We have just about completed our basic training and are waiting to be sent to radio mechanic school. The longer we stay in the army, the better we like it. As soon as we make a pay day we will start taking your paper.

Your friends,
Charlie Brunson,
Albert Cohen.

Athens, Ga., Nov. 9, 1942

Dear Editor:

I suppose you will be surprised to hear from me, but I thought I would write you a few lines and tell you that my mother sends me the paper every week and I really enjoy reading it. It's just like meeting and talking about the size of a bath room, for on read the news of the folks back home as it is printed in your paper.

Nina, who is here with me while I am going to school, enjoys the paper also and told me that Andrew had volunteered. I hope he gets into a branch of the service that he will like and has the best of luck.

I read in your paper about the voting out of beer, although I do not indulge in it myself I see no harm in letting the boys have beer as long as it is controlled. In all of the camps I kitchen and one bathroom. Not even the boys have as a whole been very sensible about their drinking

I also admirt your stand on the way some of the draft boards are overlooking the men without dependents a house as large as St. Peter's in support. I am sending you a verse written by a soldier and a marine which I copied from a newspaper here. It expresses the sentiments of every red blooded American, I am sure and I sincerely hope you can find room to print it for the benefit of some of the fellows there at home.

DRAFT DODGERS

We are writing you this short letter and every word is true;
Don't look away, draft dodgers, for this is addressed to you.
You feel at ease and in no danger,
back in the old home town;
You cook up some pitiful story, so the draft board turns you down,
You never think of the real men who leave there every day,
You just think of their girl friends, whom you get while they're away.
You sit at home and read the paper:
you jump and say "we'll win."
Just where do you get that "we" stuff
This war will be won by men.
Just what do you think, draft dodger,
that this free nation would do,
If all the men were slackers and scared to fight like you?
Well I guess that is all Mr. Slacker, I suppose that your face is red;
America's no place for your kind, and we mean every word we have said.
So in closing this letter, draft dodgers,
just remember what we say;
Don't fool around with our girl friends, for we'll be coming back some day—We hope.

PFC Joseph R. Deaver,
U. S. Marine.
Pvt. James M. Gray,
U. S. Soldier.

Please excuse the stationery as I have run out of that which you gave me when I left home and forgot to get some while up town tonight.

Tell all the boys at the pool hall hello for me and that I haven't forgotten them.

They don't play "Moon" around here so I pass time by playing pinochle with the boys.

I really appreciated the stationery, and I know that all of the boys did also. Intended to write and thank you sooner, but am not much hand at writing and let it slip my mind.

I am going to a radio school here and upon graduation hope to be a radio operator. It's a twelve weeks' course and I have nine weeks to go yet. Nina and I have a room close to the school and it's more like home having her here with me.

Well I guess I had better stop this scribbling now as I know you are a busy man, but I'll be looking forward to reading your paper every week and getting the news from all the folks back home.

Yours truly,
Bob Murphy.

The old lady has no rooms, apartments or homes listed with her for rent. Prospective renters are advised to go to the Chamber of Commerce which is keeping a file on the subject. All we can do for those who wish some place to stay is to cry with them.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Homer Williams reports that deer tracks are as plentiful down on Oxberry Bayou as ants about a sorghum mill, and that's multitudinous.

Speaking very confidentially, the GCW, the editor and the old lady do not know where a room, a house or an apartment (not even a barn) can be rented. About all that either of us can do for the frantic and desperate soldiers (with families) who seek quarters, is to express sympathy for something that we have no control over—the terrible shortage of housing facilities in Grenada.

Col. Hoffa has the Chamberlain old house looking better than it looked before the fire.

Staff Sgt. Clyde E. Horn, of March Field, California, while home on a visit, subscribed for himself, also for his brother, H. D. Horn, Jr., who is at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, Canada. Two birds with one stone.

We ran completely out of papers last week, and often do this. Those who anticipate the desire for extra copies are requested to let us know in advance.

Our Venezuela subscriber, Mr. Bob Caruthers, came up from the Southern Hemisphere to renew his subscription and to get his appendix removed.

Our friend, and roto editor, Meyers, has joined the chorus of "Aint they sweet."

Brother Tom Clark has moved over into Webster County, but is going to keep up with the Grenada news at least another year. Hope he subscribes for New Lee's fine newspaper also.

For posterity, we wish to record that the Fall of 1942 has been an ideal one for gathering the crops and for completing the military installations hereaboutst.

I wonder if the government is going to continue to destroy cotton and wheat, and to curtail production of these and other staple crops, in a ragged and hungry world? If we are to maintain our freedom, we must pass up some of these so-called "social gains."

Fred Griffin, one of Uncle Sam's men at Keesler Field, visited his old friends in Grenada last week.
